

Bio

Randy Sklar, President and co owner of Sklar Technology Partners.

Randy Sklar counsels small- and medium sized businesses seeking expertise in services including data protection, business continuance, and operational efficiencies.

As president, Randy provides strategic direction, leadership, and a clear vision for Sklar Technologies' 12-member team. Under his leadership, Sklar Technologies has achieved consistent and profitable growth, and now services more than 150 small- and medium-sized clients nationwide.

Randy focuses Sklar Technologies client services on helping businesses understand security threats and maintaining secure data systems with as little intervention from the client as possible. This allows our employees to be expert consultants acting as extensions of our clients' businesses. We develop a true partnership.

An active community member, Randy is recognized for his advocacy of people, processes, and technology. He is a member of the VentureTech Network, an exclusive nationwide technology service provider community founded and operated by the world's largest IT distributor Ingram Micro. Randy also serves in an active CEO round table in the Virginia Council of CEO's. Additionally, he serves his community in the Cold Harbor Raritan's Club.

Prior to becoming President and Co-owner of Sklar Technology Partners, Randy had worked in every department of the business. This key advantage allows him to truly understand his employees and guide them to success.

Today, Randy resides in Mechanicsville, Va., with his wife Jenny and three children Jacob, Madelyn and Alyssa.
